

Trans and Gender Diverse Policy

Bowls is an inclusive sport, open to all who wish to be involved in any capacity and we encourage all trans and non-binary participants to take part.

Whilst the physical demands of bowls are more modest than most sports, bowls is a gender-affected sport. As such, it is the responsibility of Bowls England to ensure that it provides a framework for fair competition and has due regard for the safety of all competitors, whilst also ensuring there is an opportunity for everyone to take part.

Legal framework

The policy outlined in this document ensure the following UK legislation is considered:

- Data Protection Act 2018
- Equality Act 2010
- Gender Recognition Act 2004

Definitions (Find more information, including a glossary of terms here.)

- Non-binary: An umbrella term for people whose gender identity does not sit comfortably with 'man' or 'woman'.
- Trans: An umbrella term to describe people whose gender is not the same as, or does not sit comfortably with, the sex they were assigned at birth.

We commit to creating a safe and welcoming space for all players. We will ensure that all individuals will be able to take part in bowls without fear or harassment and that all club members and visitors will be able to enjoy our sport and feel comfortable in the environment it provides.

All members of Bowls England affiliated clubs must:

- Treat all trans and non-binary members with respect.
- Welcome all trans and non-binary member as you would any other member.
- Accept all members in the gender they present. If you require verification of identity it should be the same for all members.
- Respect the privacy of all members' information, including their gender identity. This is protected in law.
- Take the lead from the member. Ask their name and if presented with a pronoun use them.
- Not make assumptions about any member's gender identity or related characteristics or stereotypes attached to that gender.

Club membership and non-competitive activity

If an existing club member needs to change the gender already listed on the membership record they will be required to notify us of a change of gender identity in line with the specified process, which will be recorded by Bowls England.

A member's gender identity cannot be changed mid-season, but we encourage members to socially transition and remain competing in the category they began the season competing in.

Members can take part in any Bowls England sanctioned non-competitive activity in their self-identified gender. All members should be treated with respect at all times and if concerns are reported relating to the acceptance of trans and/or non-binary members in any activity, the matter should be referred to us in line with our Disciplinary Regulations.

Competitive activity

The Gender Recognition Act 2004 makes specific provision for sporting organisations to potentially prohibit or restrict a person with an acquired gender from competing in an event or events involving a gender-affected sport. A sport is a gender-affected sport if the physical strength, stamina or physique of average persons of one gender would put them at a disadvantage to average persons of the other gender as competitors in events involving the sport. The sport of bowls is a gender-affected sport.
